The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Notre Dame for Campus Quiet

It remains unclear why campus turmoil is allowed to continue.

For all the talk about outside intercession and about discrimination against students, the solution seems to be in strong, rational campus regulations.

We bet there will be precious little rioting at the famed Notre Dame University in Indiana. The strength and character of that school has been a guide for many others. Notre Dame, the school, and Knute Rockne, the man, have long been beacons toward which pride, glory, manly rightiousness, and educational quality could be pointed in order to find the right way.

It is not surprising, then, that Notre Dame's president, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, could succinctly set guidelines, understandable to even the least educated, that tells students, interlopers, and educators how it is at Notre Dame.

Said President Hesburgh in a thoughtful 12-page letter,

"Dear Faculty and Students:

This letter has been on my mind for weeks. It is both time and overtime that it be written. I have outlined the core of it to the Student Life Council, have discussed the text with the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, the Vice Presidents Council, all the Deans of the University, and the Chairmen of the Faculty Senate and the Student Council . . .

"The central problem . . . is what we do about it and in what manner if we are interested in healing, rather than destroying our world. Youth especially has much to offer — idealism, generosity, dedication and service. The last thing a shaken society needs is more shaking. The last thing a noisy, turbulent, and disintegrating community needs is more noise, turbulence, and disintegration. Understanding and analysis of social ills cannot be conducted in a boiler factory. Compassion has a quiet way of service. Complicated social mechanisms, out-of-joint, are not adjusted with a sledge hammer . . .

"This community (university) recognizes the validity of protests in our day — sometimes even the necessity — regarding the current burning issues of our society: war and peace, especially Vietnam; civil rights, especially minority groups; the stance of the University vis-a-vis moral issues of great public concern; the operation of the University as a university.

"The University could not continue to exist as an open society, dedicated to the discussion of all issues of importance, if protests were of such a nature that the normal operations of the University were in any way impeded, or if the rights of any member of this community were abrogated, peacefully or non-peacefully.

"I now have a clear mandate from this University community to see that: 1) our lines of communication between all segments . . . are to be kept as open as possible, with all legitimate means of communicating dissent assured, expanded, and protected; 2) civility and rationality are maintained as the most reasonable means of dissent . . . 3) violations of other's rights or obstruction of the life of the University are outlawed as illigitimate means of dissent in this kind of open society. Violence is especially deplored as a violation of everything the University community stands for.

"Now comes my duty of stating, clearly and unequivocally, what happens if. I'll try to make it simple to avoid misunderstanding by anyone. All this is hypothetical and I personally hope it never happens here at Notre Dame. But, if it does, anyone or any group that substitutes force for rational persuasion, be it violent or non-violent, will be given 15 minutes of meditation to cease and desist. They will be told that they are, by their actions, going counter to the overwhelming conviction of this community as to what is proper here.

If they do not within that time period cease and desist, they will be asked for their identity cards.

Those who produce these will be suspended from this community as not understanding what this community is. Those who do not have or will not produce identity cards will be assumed not to be members of the community and will be charged with trespassing and disturbing the peace on private property and treated acordingly by law. The judgment regarding the impeding of normal University operations or the violation of the rights of other members of the community will be made by the Dean of Students.

Recourse for certification of this fact for students so accused is to the tri-partite Disciplinary Board established by Student Life Council . . . Judgment of the matter will be delivered wihin five days following the fact, for justice deferred is justice denied to all concerned.

"After notification of suspension, or trespass in the case of non-community members, if there is not then within five minutes a movement to cease and desist, students will be notified of expulsion from this community and the law will deal with them as non-students.

"Lest there be any possible misunderstanding, it should be noted that law enforcement in this procedure is not directed at students. They receive academic sanctions in the second instance of recalcitrants and, only after three clear opportunities to remain in student status, if they still insist on resisting the

IRS Is Checking Business Tax Returns Compliance Here

A "compiling survey" of many local business firms to determine if they are filing all required Federal tax returns began this week, the Internal Revenue Service said.

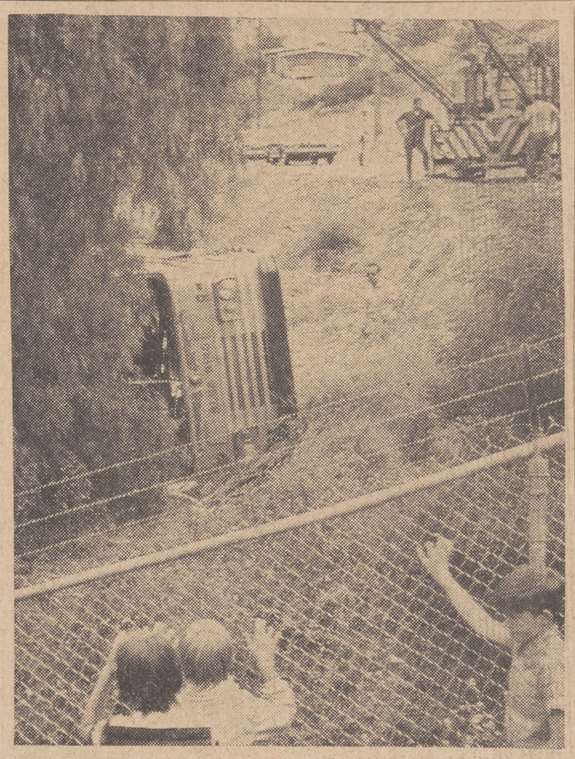

District Director's Representative T. R. Moore said the survey started in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area Monday and will be completed by July 3. A cross section of non-farm businesses will be checked to see if all required tax returns are being filed.

Moore said the current survey is not designed to determine whether returns are accurate but only whether all required returns are filed. The survey will also provide an opportunity to update the IRS National Computer Center's Master File of business taxpayers.

Most businesses comply conscientiously with the tax laws. Moore said. However, he added, these laws are complex, and some business taxpayers may not be fully aware of all the tax returns which apply to their particular business operations. These may include returns covering income, withholding, social security, and a variety of miscellaneous excise taxes.

"Compliance surveys are a continuous part of the regular IRS program to maintain high levels of taxpayer compliance.

"Most of the delinquencies brought to light will be the result of honest misunderstandings and oversight. Those rare instances of flagrant abuse which may be discovered will, of course, be dealt with according to law," Moore added.

WAYWARD BUS — Fortunately there were only minor injuries to several Spring Valley Elementary School youngsters when this La Mesa-Spring Valley school district bus overturned shortly after 2:30 p.m. Monday near Eucalyptus Park on Bancroft ave. in Spring Valley.

Bus driver Allen G. Ensign said that a couple of the children (there were 52 reported to be on board and according to Principal Noel Burch all were kindergarteners, first and second graders) had bloody noses and some were scratched. He said a ranger in the park reported that all children had escaped from the bus in 30 seconds.

According to Ensign, some children distracted him and then the bus's right wheel caught in a soft shoulder and the bus started to tip and then layed over easy.

Later a wrecker attached a cable and righted the bus.

Spring Valley Man Killed Watching Gang Fight Shooting

A Spring Valley man died Monday in Chula Vista Community hospital, the second victim of what is said to be a feud between two rival groups who are believed to be involved in narcotics activities.

The man, Raymond Vasquez, 28, of 8820 Ashmore ave., Spring Valley, died of a head wound. He is believed to have been an innocent bystander who was visiting friends Sunday living in the vicinity of the fight.

Another victim, Danny Daniels, 19, of Chula Vista died of back wounds in the same hospital shortly after the shooting.

The shooting was at Third and Montgomery streets in Chula Vista. Several shots were fired but only two victims were struck. Sheriff's men said a .22 caliber pistol may have beeen used.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Dennis Alan Stroud, 21, of San Diego in connection with the shooting. He is in County Jail on two counts of murder, suspicion of receiving stolen property, and possession of marijuana.

Harold Dougles Lankford, operator of an Otay second hand store, was arrested in Lemon Grove Monday, asleep in his car in the 6500 block of McArthur dr.

Two brothers, Russell Wade Shiroma and Douglas Brand Shiroma were arrested earily Monday at their Chula Vista home.

Sheriff Joe O'Connor said witnesses told of seeing three of four carloads of young males—about 20—drive up and start fighting. The fight and the shooting, he said, were apparently the result of a feud that had been brewing for several days among the rival factions.

Vasquez was watching the fighting when struck in the head.

O'Connor said that five persons, including two juveniles, were taken into custody.

About 10 persons are being sought for questioning by sheriff's deputies.

High School Drug Policy Change Deferred by Board

Grossmont Union High School trustees spent Monday night in executive session.

They went behind closed doors at 8 o'clock Monday and emerged at 2:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Public bodies may properly hold executive sessions to discuss personnel situations.

The executive session was also dealing with student use of dangerous drugs.

They were to consider 42 high school cases of expulsion due to drug abuse.

All 42 were expelled.

Parents of more than 15 of the students were present hoping to gain clemency for their children. They were heard by the board. Normally, it takes 15 minutes to hear each request.

Another group wanted to speak on proposed changes in the overall policy of narcotics use. They left after learning the closed sessions would last past midnight.

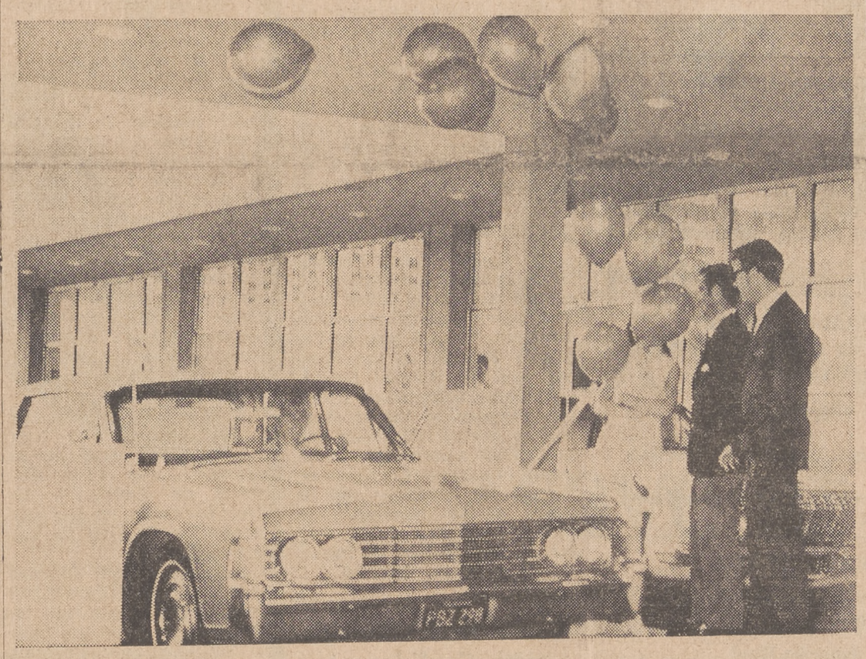

It was the third time the easing of narcotics offenders policy was to have been heard. Other times it was withdrawn by the sponsoring committee.

Monday night Trustee Bob Dryden who moved to have the matter of relaxing drug abuse penalties deferred indicated later that he was going to seek to have the matter tabled until another time. Dryden, and Trustee Rexford Hall, will end terms at the end of this month.

Of the 42 cases under consideration by trustees Monday night, 12 involved girls and 28 involved students average or above in scholastic ability.

Fourteen cases were Monte Vista students, four from Helix, and three from Mt. Miguel.

In another action 86 of 103 students who had been expelled for a semester on narcotics charges were permitted to return to classes.

Newspaperman Asks For Blood

Many readers know Jack Frost, the foreman of this newspaper's back shop.

Frost's wife, Darlene, this week underwent open-heart surgery at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

One heart valve was replaced with a plastic one. Another, at first thought to need replacement, was found to be less damaged than originally believed.

The operation was a success and she is recovering. She should be able to return home in three weeks.

During the operation, a tremendous amount of blood was required. Few families have the resources to call up enormous amounts of blood, and that is the case with the Frosts.

This, then, is a plea fo1 blood donors. Those who may want to contribute may make arrangements by calling Max Goodwin at this newspaper, or by going directly to the San 0101.

Human Relations Group Formed Here To Avert Lemon Grove Deterioration

Lemon Grove Human Relations Association, formed recently by a group of interested citizens, has announced its slate of officers and committees.

Louis Poluzzi, principal of Lemon Grove Junior High School, is chairman of the group with Charles McMahon as vice chairman. Secretary, Mrs. Eugene Johnson, came to that position as a result of being a representative of the San Miguel PTA.

Meetings of the group have taken place in the United Church of Christ on Glebe Road and began as a result of an address by Dr. David Feldmann of Station KSDO. The report that deterioration of the Lemon Grove area probably would result if concerned citizens did not become active immediately, emphasized changes in the nature of the area.

Identity Lacking

It was pointed out that Lemon Grove has no identity as a center of culture. After the Association had formed, it was shown that the climate of the area is responsible for the kind of youth reactions which were being reflected in increased use of drugs and narcotics.

The Lemon Grove Association will initiate humanizing projects Poluzzi said.

Among these are more recreational facilities in the area developing of community centers for better communication among the people, and providing family services which will be needed in the fast-changing Lemon Grove situation.

Among the change factors are the increase of apartment dwellings, decrease of home-owned and controlled businesses, and changing population such as the coming of more families of different ethnic backgrounds.

Representation Invited

Since such changes, Poluzzi said, would affect education, business, church and other areas of life, invitations have been extended to every community agency and organization to be represented.

Through continuing dialogue and action, Poluzzi said enough concern may be developed to prevent deterioration of the Lemon Grove area and to make possible certain improvements. Involvement of the whole community is in these objectives.

The following committees were set up at the last meeting of the group:

Recreation Committee: Mrs. William Danielson, Mrs. John Clark, Eugene Norman, Mrs. Diane Allison, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stammerjohn.

By Laws: Mrs. Verna Quinn Mrs. Doris White and Mrs. William Daanielson.

Human Relations: Charles McMahon, Mrs. Vi McKern, Joe Garrett, Mrs. . C. Durson Mrs. H. W. Collette, Dr. Ramon Ross, Louis Poluzzi, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Collis and Mrs. Eugene Johnson.

The next meeting of the Association has been set for June 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Mayfower Hall of the United Church of Christ, Congregational, 2770 Glebe rd., Lemon Grove.

All groups and organizations of the area have been invited to send representatives.

San Diego Symphony Faces $6,800 Deficit

The San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association is facing a projected deficit of $6,800 at the end of the current fiscal year, the association's treasurer announced last week at the groups annual membership meeting.

Symphony Treasurer William Thompson Stephens told the 175 association members attending the dinner meeting at the San Diego Yacht Club that the deficit was caused by overall cost increases during the past winter concert season.

The initial projection for the symphony year, which ends August 31, was for a surplus of $45,000.

Stephens noted that the San Diego Symphony Orchestra, like other large orchestras in the country, are forced to operate on a deficit system of financing. For that reason, he said, funds on hand at the end of a fiscal year are the principal amount of operating revenue until the following year's maintenance fund drive.

A goal of $250,000 has been set for the entire campaign.

He said the figure stands at $325,790 leaving $175,000 to be raised by June 30, 1971.

The Veterans Administration's 166 hospitals have a daily average of 93,636 patients.

Fireworks Set

More than $2,000 worth of fireworks will be set off on the Fourth of July atop the Eastridge area as part of the La Mesa Chamber of Commerce's Independence Day celebration.

'Widening Gap' Is Main Cancern At 27th Institute On World Affairs

Lecture Series To Probe Discord In Foreign And Domestic Relations

An exploration of the widening gap in international and domestic relations will be undertaken by some 45 diplomats, scientists, military leaders and political authorities at San Diego State's 27th annual Institute on World Affairs this summer.

The three-week lecture series will run from August 11 to August 29 with morning sessions in the Music Auditorium and evening meetings in the Dramatic Arts Building.

Minos D. Generales, professor of political science, will serve his 18th year as director. Generales is also executive director of the World Affairs Council of San Diego.

"The goal of the institute is to probe the future using the dynamics of a changing environment to identify and grasp the significance of the new order into which man has been thrust," Generales said.

Since its inception in 1943, the Institute has examined trends in politics, economics, science and culture. Through the country's innumerable crises, it has been an open forum attracting authorities on international and national problems, he said.

"It has been a sounding board for military as well as peaceful causes, political as well as moral issues, scientific and sociological incongruities, racial order and disorder, human progress and human deprivation."

Speaking about this year's theme, "The Widening Gap," Generales said, "Today, the international gap is of as great a concern as domestic gaps and has generated a multifaceted set of problems. The evidence shows that these splits are increasing broadening. The result is frustration, anxiety, and alientation."

"The world cannot indefinitely bear the strain of this imbalance; the future will be chaos and violence. Yet, under present conditions, no lessening of this difference is possible within the existing potential of the developed world."

Students, experts, and laymen alike will address themselves to these issues in a climate of "let the other side be heard." In line with this, the institute has maintained a policy of strict non-partisanship according to Generales.

Such topics as "Democracy on Trial," "Coexistence," "Survival" and "Toward a New World," have provided focus for past discussions. Personages such as Admiral U. S. Grant Sharp; Harold Stassen; Robert Hutchins; U. S. State Department's Roger Hilsman; and chief of protocol Angier Biddle Duke have appeared on the summer platform.

The lectures are part of an academic program and three units of college credit can be obtained after formal enrollment. Students should apply for admission to Summer Session.

Tuition is $22.50 per semester unit. Specific registration instructions will be given at the first class meeting.

An Institute Advisory Board includes representatives from the Universities of Madrid, Stockholm, Vienna, and Notre Dame. Political associations of France, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Israel, Italy and the United States have delegates on the the board.

Full information on the Institute may be obtained from Director Generales, Political Science Department, San Diego State, San Diego, Calif. 92115.

Science Degree Awarded Zilius

John Stephen Vincent Zilius of 2569 Hardy pl., Lemon Grove, a University of Redlands honor student in chemistry, received a bachelor of science degree magna cum laude this week during the University's 60th annual commencement.

Zilius is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen V. Zilius, of Lemon Grove.

Although he has spent the past year at the University of California, San Diego Medical School, Zilius is officially a member of the University of Redlands Class of 1969. He was admitted to medical school at the end of his junior year.

Zilius was granted honors at entrance to the University of Redlands in 1965 as a pre-medical student. He was a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta pre-med fraternity and was active in the California College Republicans.

The original force of Indian fighters numbered 106,000. Today there are only two surviving veterans of those wars.

CHIEF HOSPITAL CORPSMAN — William Tamboer, of Lemon Grove receives the Purple Heart from Commander D. R. Divelbiss, Commander of River Assault Squadron 15. The combat sailor was presented the medal for wounds received in battle on March 26. The ceremony was aboard the USS MERCER in the My Tho River 38 miles southwest of Saigon. (U.S. Navy Photo)

Purple Heart Ceremony For William Tamboer

WITH THE MOBILE RIVERINE FORCE IN THE MEKONG DELTA — A U.S. Navyman from Lemon Grove, has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal for wounds received in a battle between the Army-Navy Mobile Riverine Force (MRF) and Viet Cong guerillas in the Mekong Delta of South Vietnam.

Chief Hospital Corpsman William E. Tamboer, of 3888 Carancho st. was presented the award by the Commander of the River Assault Squad 5 in ceremonies May 10. Taboer's wife is the former Miss Marie Ruberg of Lemon Grove.

The award was made during a lull in the almost nonstop operation of MRF. Squadron 15 is one of four miniature 50-boat aramadas of River Assault Flotilla One, the naval element of Mobile Riverine Force.

The ceremony took place aboard the USS Mercer (APB-39) as it lay at anchor in the My Tho River. The USS Mercer, a self-propelled barracks ship, and 10 other ships act as a mobile base for the flotilla's 170 assault boats, which support American and Vietnamese ground elements in search and sweep operations across the Delta swamplands.

In a typical operation, such as the one in which Tamboer was wounded, the troops are transported into battle by Navy Armored Troop Carriers (ATCs), versatile 56-foot converted landing craft. Each of these boats is capable of carrying one platoon of 40 fully- equipped infantrymen through the intricate network of tawny riverways and green rice paddies that comprise the Mekong Delta.

Gunfire support is provided by other heavily armed and armored craft including 60-foot Monitor gunboats, reminiscent of the ironclad of the same name that fought in Civil War Days.

Minesweeping and escort duties are performed by Assault Support Patrol Boats (ASPBs), the destroyer-minesweeper of the Delta "mini-fleet". These are the fastest and most maneuverable of the assault craft.

Land and water tactics are coordinated aboard a Command and Control Boat (CCB), a well protected and potent craft which serves both the Army and Navy commanders as an afloat on-the-scene command post.

River Assault Flotilla One, a unit of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force, is homeported in San Diego.

Chief Tamboer joined the Navy October 7, 1950.

NEWEST FISH AND CHIPS SHOP — Haddon Salt, himself, master Master-Fryer, shown here working behind the gleaming, English imported range that is the focal point in a typical H. Salt, esq. Fish and Chips Shop.

The newest shop is now open under the proprietorship of Spencer Clawson, in Lemon Grove, at 6933 Federal blvd., in the College Square.

Fish and Chips Shop Opens; 90th in World's Largest Chain

"Pack your things, Grace, and bundle the children. We're off to America", is the way Haddon Salt, youthful British fish and chips tycoon recalls making his decision to "take up with America" and leave a prohperous fish and chips restaurant back in 1964.

"Frankly", he recalls, "our family and friends thought my wife Grace and I a bit daft to chuck it all for a dream".

That dream is now a reality of more than 90 fish and chips shops bearing the H. Salt, esq. name in America, with 200 more expected to open in 1969.

The most recent shop is in Lemon Grove, at 6933 Federal blvd., at College, just west of the 94 on ramp. The shop is under the proprietorship of Spencer Clawson.

To look at Haddon Halt, medium of height, square of chin, broad of smile with a perennial twinkle in his eye, one would get the impression he was type-cast for the role of an Englishman in Hollywood.

However, this thought is quickly dispelled once you discover that he hails from Skegness, England, in the heart of the fish and chips country.

"I decided to imigrate to this country because so many American tourists expressed their admiration for the fish and chips I served at my restaurant, and kept telling me that I should bring myself over to American and make myself a packet."

Came In 1964

In 1964, Salt arrived in California. He selected this state because so many of his customers hailed from here and he felt he would be among friends.

"I came over not simply to start a restaurant, but to introduce fish and chips to America, as grandiose as that dream sounds now," he remarked with a smile. "In the back of my mind, I had the idea of opening many fish and chips restaurants, but nothing really definite.

The first H. Salt, esq. shop opened in Sausalito in 1965. According to Salt, he selected Sausalito because, sooner or later, every Californian turns up there, and he could spread the gospel of authentic English fish and chips more rapidly.

"The surprising thing is that fish and chips followers are so enthusiastic it almost resembles a cult".

An interesting statistic quoted by Salt is that in England, every man, woman and child consumes an average of 100 pounds of fish a year, while in America, the figure barely approaches 10 pounds a year.

"To many people", Salt insists, "take frying fish and chips too lightly. It is an art. Definitely. It is a most delicate product that must be made well or not all."

Training is also important to Salt. He revealed that several weeks are spent training the proprietor of each new H. Salt, esq. fish and chips shops.

Apparently it has worked out well, for at last count, everyone of the 90 H. Salt, esq. fish and chips shops were operating at a "tidy", to use Salt's word, profit.

Lemon Grove's Fish and Chips will be open 4 to 9 p.m. daily except Monday. It is on the south side of Federal at College near the 94 interchange.

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

A sign along the road from Tijuana to Ensenda created a little frustration for a family on a recent vacation. They had been forced to park their camper off the road to fix a flat. Within a few feet of their parked position a sign warned "No tire basura."

Considering the small shoulder of the road and the adjoining large cliff leading steeply down to the ocean, changing the tire became a harrowing experience. Nerves were on edge. What could the sign "No tria basura" mean? Perhaps some Spanish word related to "tire." "Oh, it must mean 'no tire changing.' "

Immediately a frighten parent called for all the children to gather around the camper to disguise the activities. Imigination ran wild. One said, "Can you imagine, we might get picked-up by the Mexican police for changing a tire right under a sign that says 'No tira basura.' "

A recount of the exciting event was later made to a neighbor who understood Spanish. "We were fortunate not to have been placed in jail. Just think of the danger, changing a tire under a sign—big as life, saying "no tire basura.' " The concerned parent burst into laughter when her neighbor clarified the translation. "No tire basura" means "Do not throw garbage." Some examples of "tirar" (to throw) are in today's lesson and may be heard when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Que tira usted?" (keh TEE-rah oo-sthd) for "What are you throwing?"

Say "Yo tiro la pelote." (yoh TEE-roh lah peh-LOH-tah) for "I throw the ball."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "No tire basura." (noh TEE-rah bah-SOO-rah) for "Don't throw garbage."

Say "Depositela en la lata." (deh-poh-SEE-teh-lah ehn lah LAH-tah) for "Deposit it in the can."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Donde tiramos basura?" (DOHN-deh tee-RAH-mohs bah-SOO-rah) for "Where do we throw garbage?"

Say "La tiramos en el bote." (lah TEE-rah-mohs en ehl BOH-teh) for "We throw it in the large can."

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

In this day when we hear so much about people not wanting to get involved, I just had to write this letter and let everyone know that this is not always the case.

My purse was stolen from my shopping cart in the parking lot at Food Basket in Lemon Grove. But thanks to Steve Sherman, a box boy at Food basket, and Richard Wallace, of La Mesa, a witness in the parking lot, two women were caught and subsequently convicted.

Steve Sherman was a very valuable witness, and Richard Wallace not only got most of the license number but followed them, then led the Sheriff right to the bar where they were apprehended.

Also thanks to Mr. Cove of the American Gas Station in Lemon Grove, who returned my purse. He also testified.

People are still wonderful!

Sincerely,
Mary Ann Johnson

Zoo's Colony Of Emus Grows With Addition Of Four Chicks

The San Diego Zoo's colony of emus, the world's second largest birds, now numbers 20 with the hatching of four chicks this spring.

K. C. Lint, curator of birds, reports that one chick hatched May 1, two hatched May 8, and another broke out of his shell May 9.

Emu hatchings in captivity are quite rare, Lint said, because the female tends to lay her eggs indiscriminately about the enclosure. If the eggs do hatch, she is also likely to neglect the chicks. However, the zoo has had success with emu hatchings through the use of a custom-built incubator.

Lint added that the emu chicks will provide breeding stock for the San Pasquel Wild Animal Park now being groups of emus and other animals will be exhibited together.

Emu eggs are avocado green in color and measure some five inches in length and five inches in diameter. More emu hatchings are anticipated at the zoo this spring, since some eggs are still being incubated.

Emus, second in size only to the ostrich, are flightless birds of the cassowary family native to northern Australia and New Guinea. Adults can reach weights of 120 pounds and heights of six feet.

In the wild, male emus perform the domestic duties of building nests and incubating eggs.

Mississippi and Louisana have the same state flower, the magnolia tree blossom.

Long Bombs From 'Napolean' To Help Rockets' Rookies Prepare 'Waterloo' For Visiting Russian Cagers

Charles Bonaparte, a 6-3 guard from Norfolk State, will be in the San Diego rookie lineup that opposes the Russian Olympic basketball team June 26 at the Sports Arena after signing with the Rockets this week.

The 21year-old native of Richmond, Va., signed a 1969-70 NBA contract with Pete Newell, Rocket general manager.

He will join the other Rocket rookies, including already signed Bobby Smith of Tulsa and Bernie Williams of La-Salle, when a special tryout camp opens Monday, June 16, at Cal Western University.

Bonaparte and the other rookie hopefuls will drill twice a day at Cal Western's Golden Gymnasium in preparation for clashes against the Los Angeles Laker draftees Thursday, June 19, at the Sports Arena and Friday, June 20, at the Forum in Inglewood.

The next week will find the rookies scrimmaging twice a day at the Sports Arena to be ready for the Russian team that has given the U. S. plenty of trouble in the last two Olympic games.

Bonaparte, the Rockets third round college draft choice, and Williams, the Rockets second pick, figure to be the first team guards against the Russians.

"Napolean," as Bonaparte has already been dubbed by the Rocket scribes, made a reputation at Norfolk as a tremendous outside marksmans, averaging 25.1 points per game as a senior.

His three-year varsity statistics at Norfolk show an 18.1 scoring average with shooting percentages of 53 percent from the field and 78 percent from the line.

He won All-NCAA Regional honors after exploding for a single game effort of 59 points in the Portsmouth Invitational Tournament.

In his last two seasons at Norfolk, the club had a 51-6 record including seasons of 27-4 and 24-2.

The rookies will be battling to win invitations to the Rockets fall training camp when the veterans report in September to prepare for the 1969-70 campaign that will include 38 home games at the Sports Arena.

Monte Vista Track

By SCOTT McGAUGH

Monte Vista High School was well represented last week in the CIF race Finals, as the Monarch cindermen took two firsts, a second, a fourth and a fifth in the three divisions of competition.

Dave Carter remained CIF champ in the two-mile, as he raced to a 9:10.4 two-mile. That time bettered his previous best by 24.6 seconds.

Carter had to beat Ed Mendoza of Helix as the Highlander had beaten Carter earlier in the season and he did by striding in over eight seconds ahead of Mendoza.

To Lux, a Freshman, picked up the other first for the Monarchy as he cruised 1320 yards in just 3:11.3 in the Cee division.

Lux's time smashed his previous best and bettered his qualifying time in the Pre-Lims by about five seconds.

Pat Foley took second in the discus to Mt. Miguels' Billy Winchester who bettered Foley's CIF record in winning. Winchester tossed the platter 175-4 to better Foley's record set last year of 175-1.

Steve Gillean came in fifth in the Varsity 880 to round out the Monarch attack in the A division. The Monarchs ended up tied for ninth in team totals with 7 points.

Gary Earle, a promising sophomore, picked up a fourth in the Beer high jump for Monte Vista.

Foley and Carter qualified for the State Track and Field Finals which will be held this Friday and Saturday at UCLA.

Rules For Swimming Pool Safety Are Essential For Californians

Californians, who enjoy one-fourth of the 800,000 residential swimming pools in the country, may expect to suffer one-fourth of the expected 500 home pool deaths this year—mostly children — unless they heed basic safety precautions.

With the privilege and obvious benefits of owning a home pool goes the added responsibility of assuring your family and guests absolute safety.

Therefore, homeowners enjoying or installing a home pool should take steps to see that it does not become a site of tragedy.

Consult with an expert and investigate several makes and models to determine which would be best for you. Many communities require certain precautions which you will need to know, such as distance from the house, fence height and other requirements.

The Association suggests all pool owners post a set of simple and explicit rule governing the pool area to be observed by family and guests alike. The rules should include:

1. Never swim alone.
2. Look before diving and dive only at the deep end and from a board.
3. No running or horseplay around the pool.
4. Absolutely no roughhousing in the water, and don't play tricks. (Jokingly calling for help and other such antics create confusion and may lead to tragedy.)
5. No food or bottles carried to the poolside.
6. Young children must always be accompanied by an adult or teen who is a good swimmer.

Other rules should include the times your pool is used by friends or guests who might use the pool in your absence or at special authorized times.

By observing these few simple rules the homeowner can provide enjoyment for himself, his family and friends. And avoid becoming involved in a lawsuit.

The personal liability provision in all homeowners insurance policies protects the homeowner when a claim is filed or a damage suit is brought against him by persons who consider him responsible for their injuries.

This protection applies not only to accidents occuring on your premises, but those occuring elsewhere if the injury or damage is caused by you or your family.

Even if the tragedy of a drowning should occur in your pool, the policy will protect you against claims for negligence.

School Aid Seen

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly Education Committee has approved legislation by Senator Clair W. Burgener (R-San Diego) to prohibit the state from holding back state aid from school districts which receive federal impact funds.

The measure which has already cleared the Senate was sent to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Burgener introduced the measure because California is continuing to deduct state aid from districts which receive federal funds because of the number of residents and industries which are exempt from the property tax.

"Unless the state halts such deduction," Burgener said, "the federal government will not allot the special federal impact funds to the school districts."

SV COMMUNITY COUNCIL SPEAKER — Spring Valley Fire Chief, Frank Berger led flag salute and pledge of allegiance at May 26 meeting of the Council.

Howard Neff, principal of Casa de Oro school in Spring Valley, will be honored at a community reception on June 10, 7 to 9 p.m. at the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Education Center. The public is invited.

Event recognizes Neff's retirement following 32 years of service in public schools, including 14 years as a principal in the La Mesa-Spring Valley district.

Neff is resigning from the district and is retiring from California teaching but will go overseas to serve two years as principal of the elementary division of the American Community School in Beirut, Lebanon, a school with which the LM-SV School District has an international partnership in a program sponsored by the U. S. State Department.

Mrs. Shirley Simpson, chairman of the planning committee, said the reception is sponsored by the schools and districts in which Neff served.

Glenn Murdock, superintendent of schools of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, said that Neff came to the area in 1950 as principal of El Cajon School. A year later he was appointed assistant superintendent of the Cajon Valley Union School District. There he helped organize the kindergarten program and worked with recruitment and attendance accounting.

In 1955 he moved to the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District where he was the first principal of Spring Valley Junior High school. A year later he was assigned as principal of La Mesa Junior High.

Following a sabbatical leave in 1962 during which he examined curricular innovations, pre-service and in-service training of teachers in European schools, Neff was appointed principal of Brier Patch school. Currently he is principal of Casa de Oro school.

A native of Pennsylvania, Neff received his B.S. from the University of Pennsylvania and his M.A. from Teachers' College, Columbia University. He taught grades 4 through junior college in New Jersey and served as principal and teacher in the Canal Zone.

During the World War II years as a captain in the U.S. Army Air Force, he served in combat intelligence in the Mediterranean, where he was awarded a Bronze Star.

At La Mesa Junior High the Parent-Teacher Association established a Howard Neff Scholarship in his honor.

Murdock said Neff is looking forward to his assignment in Beirut because of the position itself and because of his long time interest in the Near East.

will of the community, are they then expelled and become non-students to be treated as other non-students, or outsiders."

Rev. Hesburgh's entire letter is exciting reading. Space prevents the reproduction in its entirety. One other section of it indicates that he knows his business.

The rhythm of the new politics of confrontation (on campuses) is simple, he says.

"1) find a cause, any cause, silly or not; 2) in the name of the cause, get a few determined people to abuse the rights and privileges of the community so as to force a confrontation at any cost of boorishness or incivility; 3) once this has occurred, justified or not, orderly or not, yell police brutality — and if this does not happen, provoke it by foul language, physical abuse, whatever, and then count on a larger measure of sympathy from the up-to-now apathetic or passive members of the community. Then call for amnesty, the head of the president on a platter, the complete submission to any and all demands."

How very understandable is his explanation of the chemistry of the problem of campus rioting. How straight-forward is his approach to handling it.

Other college officials could do well to acquire the letter and adapt that part which appears suitable.

California Farm Bureau Federation Seeks Moratorium On The Use Of DDT In California

The California Farm Bureau Federation requested May 15 that the State Director of Agriculture declare a moratorium on the use of DDT in California pending further study of the effects of the controversial chemical pesticide.

At the same time, the Federation's Board of Directors urged that an extensive research program be pursued to find methods that will assure the maintenance of safe foods together with adequate production of food and fiber in the future.

The Directors expressed a preference for a moratorium, coupled with extensive research, to a legislative ban of DDT.

"We in California agriculture are proud of the fact that our state is a leader in regulatory activities aimed at preventing the harmful use of agricultural pesticides," the Board concluded.
